

NEW YORK HAS A BITTER FIGHT

Hearst And Hughes Both Winding Up Campaign In New York City--Charges Of Fraud.

TAMMANY BRANDS THE TELEGRAM

From Croker As Absolutely False--McCarron Blamed For Its Being Made Public--Other Gossip.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Nov. 1.—In reply to an inquiry from the Associated Press, Richard Croker, from his home in Dunelm, Ireland, states that Senator McCarron, upon the latter's "manly stand" regarding Hearst, is genuine.
The Tammany View.
New York, Nov. 1.—The bitter fight for the governorship of New York is each day developing new phases. State Attorney Pat McCarron of Brooklyn, a Tammany Brave who is leading the fight of the Brooklyn democrats against Hearst, reported yesterday he had received a cablegram from Richard Croker, former Chief of Tammany, endorsing his course in fighting the democratic nominee. This morning Charles P. Murphy, the present Tammany leader, who is supporting Hearst, denounces the cablegram as a fake.
Excites Comment.
The Croker cablegram is the subject of all the political talk in the city today. Hearst followers are free to denounce it and his opponents are making all the capital possible out of its alleged existence. If the report is true it will play an important figure in next Tuesday's election, owing to the prominence in which Croker has been held by oldtime Tammany leaders.

The betting the past few days has been large to one on Hughes and several large bets of thirty thousand to ten thousand dollars have been recorded at these figures. The Hearst money does not appear to be as prevalent as it was a little earlier in the campaign, although his meetings are largely attended wherever he speaks. He continues his campaign of abuse, which political leaders claim is losing him votes daily.
Hughes Men Confident.
The republicans appear to be confident that Hughes will win. They are straining every nerve to get the rural vote out and it is said that Hearst will be beaten two to one in the country districts. New York's usual majority will be cut down owing to the break in Brooklyn of the democrats and it is possible that one of the effects of the campaign will be the defeat of Charles Murphy as Tammany leader as well as Hearst's downfall.

Predict Majority.
The republican leaders are claiming a hundred and fifty thousand majority, although being an off year this may be too high. Hearst men also make claims of between eighty and a hundred thousand majority and assert they will carry Greater New York by a hundred and twenty-five thousand majority. Two weeks ago it is claimed Hearst's chances were better than they are at present and the charges brought that he seeks to evade victory by his alliance with Murphy have done much to injure him in the rural districts.
Much Scratching.
It is asserted that the Tammany leaders have notified the democratic state central committee they can not control their voters and that there will be much scratching of tickets election day. This might possibly mean that Hearst would fail to carry New York city.

REDUCED RAILROAD RATES GO IN EFFECT

Two and Half Cents Per Mile on Lines in Central Passenger Association.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—The Central Passenger Association today put into effect a 2 1/2 cent rate in all its territory east of Illinois, in which the state legislatures have not already made a maximum rate of 2 cents. The new schedule reduces the local rates only in Indiana and Ohio have 2-cent fare laws. But it involves a lowering of all the interstate passenger rates north of the Ohio river and west of Syracuse, N. Y. The change involves a loss of many hundreds of thousands of dollars revenue yearly to the railroads unless it shall cause a heavy increase of traffic and traffic officials doubt if the reduction is sufficient to have that effect. They assert that a further reduction to 2 cents would make it necessary to recoup their losses by largely discontinuing excursions.
Boston & Albany Reduction.
Boston, Mass., Nov. 1.—The promised reduction in the rate of fare on the Boston & Albany railroad went into effect today when the passenger rate was made 2 cents per mile on the entire road. The change in rates, it is felt by the officials of the road, will do much to minimize the opposition of the parallel electric lines, which during the past years has become very acute in this section.

ECUADOR'S TARIFF SCHEDULE CHANGED

But None of Principal Articles of Import From United States is Affected.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Ecuador's new tariff schedule, which goes into effect today, provides for a complete reclassification and makes reduction on some classes of goods sent from the United States to Ecuador. No marked alterations on the chief exports from this country to Ecuador are to be noted; however, there is no change in duty on flour and lard, which are the chief American exports to the southern republic.

GROWERS OF BURLEY TOBACCO TO UNITE

Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, and West Virginia Producers Plan to Regulate Price.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Winchester, Ky., Nov. 1.—Growers of burley tobacco in Kentucky rounded up here today to discuss plans for their mutual interests and protection. The plan is to unite all the growers of this state with those of Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia in order to handle the present crop independently. A society for mutual protection is to be formed on the lines successfully carried out by the dark tobacco growers.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Atlantic, Ia., Nov. 1.—Throughout the day members of the Southwestern Iowa Teachers' association have been arriving for their annual meeting, which opens tonight, to continue until the end of the week. All indications point to an unusually interesting and profitable meeting. The Methodist church has been prepared for the sessions, which open with the annual address of the president, Superintendent J. H. Beveridge of Missouri Valley. President H. H. Seerley of the State Normal School, President A. B. Storms of Iowa State College, Dr. E. A. Steiner of Iowa College, Dr. Nathaniel Butler of the University of Chicago, State Superintendent John F. Riggs and a number of other prominent educators are on the program.

NEW ZEALAND EXHIBITION

Wellington, N. Z., Nov. 1.—The great international New Zealand exhibition, on which the government has spent large sums, was formally opened at Christ church today. All parts of the British empire, including the Dominion of Canada, are well represented at the exhibition. One of the interesting displays is the Maori section, illustrating the life, habits and industries of the aborigines. Another striking feature is the display of fine native woods that New Zealand is just beginning to exploit. The exhibition will continue six months and is expected to draw visitors from all parts of the world.

Madison.—Horace A. Taylor, former editor of the Wisconsin State Journal, who recently resigned as assistant secretary of the United States treasury, is visiting friends here. He expects to leave for a tour around the world in a few days.

POSTAGE FROM NEW ZEALAND REDUCED

Letters Hereafter Will Come to United States and Be Delivered at Two Cents Per Half Ounce.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—On and after today, according to an order of the postoffice department, letters originating in New Zealand and prepaid by postage stamps at the rate of 1 penny, or 2 cents, for each half ounce, are to be delivered to addressees in the United States without the collection of additional postage. Heretofore New Zealanders have been obliged to pay 5 cents letter postage on correspondence delivered in the United States, while correspondence carried in the same vessel and transported across this country for delivery in Canada or Great Britain has been carried at the rate of 2 cents per half ounce. The new order is expected to aid in the promotion of closer business relations between New Zealand and the United States.

FORECASTING THE ELECTION RESULTS

Public Service Corporation Reduces Rates on Cars to Discourage Municipal Ownership.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Newark, N. J., Nov. 1.—The Public Service Corporation, which controls all the trolley lines, electric light and gas plants in northern New Jersey, today put into effect reduced car rates over a large part of its system. An announcement is made that marked reductions in the price of electric lighting and gas are also contemplated. This move on the part of the corporation is believed to have been influenced by the fact that at next week's elections a number of municipalities are to vote on the question of building their own lighting plants.

MOTHERS' CONGRESS WITHDREW "INVITE"

Asked Anthony Comstock to Speak and then Commanded Request—In Session Now.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 1.—The Pennsylvania Congress of Mothers, which recently came into prominence by recalling an invitation sent to Anthony Comstock, the purity monitor of New York, to deliver an address, opens a three days' session in this city tonight. The delegates commenced arriving this morning, and all were promptly escorted to the quarters assigned them. The arrangements for the gathering are of the most perfect and elaborate character. The big auditorium of Library Hall, where the sessions are to be held, has been handsomely decorated. The program for the initial session provides for addresses by Mrs. Frederick Schöff, president of the National Congress of Mothers, and C. George Beck, principal of the Clarion State Normal School. Mrs. George K. Johnson of Philadelphia will preside.

STOCK BREEDING IS BEING CONSIDERED

National Government Has in Contemplation Establishment of Station in Vermont.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—It is said the government has in contemplation the establishment of a large breeding station in Vermont for the perpetuation of the famous Morgan stock of horses. Both the war and agricultural departments have taken an active interest in the breeding of Morgan horses, which are famous for their great endurance combined with activity and intelligence. Not only in agricultural work have they been valuable, and as road horses, but they have been of signal service to the government in the cavalry. Some of the most famous war horses during the civil war were of Morgan stock, notably General Sheridan's Rienzi, which carried the great cavalry leader on his memorable ride to Winchester.

In the manufacturing cities he visited, Fairbanks discussed the tariff and regulation of trusts. In all his speeches he urged the hands of Roosevelt to be upheld by the election to congress of men who are in sympathy with his policies. He also urged the importance of supporting governor Hanley in his reform policy by the election of a republican legislature.

LONDON BUILDING MUCH; NEARING BANKRUPTCY

Progressives Increasing Municipal Debt By Erecting Beautiful Libraries, Baths And Parks.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Nov. 1.—The municipal elections in London were held today. Incomplete returns point to a victory and continuance of power for the Progressives, notwithstanding the fact that the campaign against them this year has been more bitter than ever before. Recent developments indicate unmistakably that there is a growing demand for municipal reform, but evidently the people have not yet been aroused sufficiently to oust the so-called Progressive party from power.
It is a matter of common knowledge that in every borough where the Progressives are in power the rates are steadily and rapidly increasing because of lavish and most unreasonable socialistic expenditures. Enormous sums have been spent in the past few years by the Progressives for libraries, baths, housing schemes, parks, music, street improvements, street lighting, tram lines and other things, so that the average tax rate in London has been increased about 50 per cent since 1890.
The results prove that municipal trading means municipal debt. A recent return shows that the total net debt of London twelve months ago was $16,157,270. Of this tremendous total no less than $24,488,095, or nearly one-half, was in respect of tramways, workmen's dwellings, water supply, electric light, and minor so-called "remunerative" undertakings. The taxpayers of London pay close upon four million pounds sterling every year in interest upon and repayment of this debt. An eminent American sociologist has published a volume in which he predicts bankruptcy for London's communal enterprises, and an equally prominent Italian sociologist, who recently visited London, states that the horrible prospect of the metropolis will sooner or later bring about a crisis.
Glaring examples of wasteful municipal expenditure are to be seen on every hand. But recently a new building was opened by the borough council in Battersea. It is fitted up for billiards, bagatelle, chess, draughts and other games. The cost of the building and its maintenance will come out of the rates. Poplar, the most rate-ridden district of London, is another glaring example of the ineffectiveness of municipal trading. Despite its rate of twelve shillings in the pound district owes $2,550,000. Sixteen years ago the borough's indebtedness was only $208,415. This virtual state of bankruptcy has been brought about by the borough's erection of hand organs, baths, libraries, and other public institutions, including, appropriately enough, a magnificent workhouse.

Put On Your Thinking Cap and Secure The Gazette's 500 Pennies.

THE SKIDOO PROBLEM

A coin collector had an accumulation of pennies. He told his son he would make him a present of the entire lot if he would put them in boxes, the same number in each box. There was an odd number of pennies so that if he put an equal number in each of two boxes there would be one penny left over. In a like manner he figured on 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 boxes, but in every case if he put an equal number in each box there would be one (only one) penny left over. The son gave it up and told his father he thought it impossible to perform the feat. His father replied: "SKIDOO—23 for you." The son then put the entire lot of pennies in 23 boxes, the same number in each box. How many pennies were there? To make the problem plain: The entire number of pennies was a number, which if divided by any number from 2 to 22 inclusive there would be a remainder of one (only one) and if divided by 23 there would be no remainder.

The Gazette's great SKIDOO PROBLEM offers to best of opportunities for everybody, both old and young, to show their skill at figuring and to win a prize. Nearly everybody will catch the skidoo fever if they haven't already and the many systems which will be tried on this problem will surprise the mathematicians generally.

The Skidoo Problem has been secured by The Gazette for exclusive use in Janesville and is the cleverest problem conceived in years. Skidoo and 23 are in the air and are at last put to practical use. This is no trick problem. It is a plain proposition in arithmetic. Just simple arithmetic is needed to solve it—just a contest of skill, no algebra or higher mathematics.

Carefully digest the problem printed herewith; get your pencil and paper and "dig" into it, figure out what you believe to be the correct solution and then let The Gazette hear from you.

500 new pennies will be given to the person who sends in the most skillfully worded correct solution to the problem. 23 pennies will be given to the five other contestants whose solutions are considered by the judges to be the next most ingenious. Skidoo pins will be given to the other contestants whose solutions are considered unusually cleverly worded out. Send as many solutions as you like and as often as you like to Puzzle Editor, Daily Gazette.

SPANISH VETS

MAKE NEW MOVE

TOOK ACTION TOWARD PROMOTION OF RIFLE PRACTICE.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE CLUBS

Camps, Like One Recently Formed in Janesville, Asked to Take up Work.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The action of the United Spanish War Veterans in taking up the subject of rifle practice at its recent annual encampment in Washington, is highly gratifying to the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice as a step in the encouragement of rifle practice among civilians. Lieut. Albert S. Jones, secretary of the National Rifle association, spent the week here presenting the matter to members of the organization. Through his efforts, Major Taylor E. Brown of Illinois presented a resolution which was adopted as follows:

"Be it Resolved, That it is the sense of this encampment that the promotion of rifle practice will be stimulated and increased by such measures and regulations as will permit members of this organization, either individually or by camps or by auxiliary rifle clubs, to practice rifle firing with the service weapons and ammunition under the rules and regulations of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice."

"Be it further Resolved, That a special committee of seven be appointed by the commander-in-chief to devise ways and means for carrying out the purpose of the foregoing resolution, with power to act, and to report the result of its operation at the next encampment."

The United Spanish War Veterans has more than two hundred camps. It is proposed to organize civilian rifle clubs in as many of these camps as possible. While ostensibly civilian clubs these will really be military rifle clubs for the military rifle of the United States will be used, along with the army revolvers of the Standard Colt or Smith and Wesson patterns. The members of this organization are mostly young men who have had training in rifle shooting either in the militia or in the volunteer service during the late war. They propose to keep up their military training, and as part of that work will engage in rifle practice.

The movement toward civilian rifle practice, while necessarily of slow growth is proceeding with sufficient rapidity to gratify those who have it most at heart. Since the organization of the national board and the reorganization of the National Rifle association, great strides have been made in the direction of acquiring a national reserve of marksmen. Congress has encouraged the work by providing national trophies and for annual pistol and rifle matches, and recently increased the militia appropriation so that half a million dollars annually is available for militia practice, and the acquiring of ranges and shooting galleries. The National Board also receives a small appropriation to cover the expenses of the national matches. It has been recognized that before civilians could be induced to learn to shoot they must be provided with ranges and galleries. That has, in a measure, been provided for by Congress last year in the appropriation out of which the states can buy ranges they wish. Titles to these ranges but each state will control its own ranges while designed especially for the use of militia the state authorities will doubtless, in most cases, throw open the ranges to civilian clubs properly organized and equipped with government weapons, the ranges to be used by the civilians on certain days, and under proper restrictions. The next step will be to provide civilians with rifles and ammunition.

The club feature is essential to provide for the care of government property, and for its proper use, as bonds must be given for the guns. At present members of the rifle clubs affiliated with the National Rifle association are allowed to purchase government rifles practically at cost, but something more than this is desired. It will vest in the general government is hoped that some day congress will authorize the war department to issue rifles to these clubs in the proportion of one rifle for each ten members, and also to allow fifty rounds of ammunition per member. This would be sufficient to give each club a fair start and experience has shown that when a man once gets interested in rifle practice his interest is continued. The desire to become proficient in the use of military weapons is inherent, and when that desire can be gratified without much inconvenience and at little expense, it is expected that hundreds of thousands will take up the sport. It is healthy, cleanly and humane.

Civilian rifle practice is expected to do much for the militia. Just as the taste for military training inculcated in boys in high school cadet corps leads many of them to join the militia later, so it is believed that men who learn to shoot as civilians will join the militia because of the additional facilities for practice they will thereby enjoy.

The new magazine rifle, model of 1903, with which the army is equipped, is 30 caliber. The cartridge loaded with about 42.0 grains and the bullet leaves the rifle at the rate of 2200 feet per second. The complete cartridge weighs about 450 grains. The bullet has a core of lead and tin composition, enclosed in a jacket of cupro-nickel. The sides of the bullet are smooth and the base flat. It weighs 220 grains. Five cartridges are packed in a bandoleer made of khaki cloth, with six pockets. Each pocket is sewed up, but a piece of tape is attached in such a manner that by pulling on its end the seam readily opens. The weight of the bandoleer with cartridges is about four pounds.

For guard purposes a special cartridge will be manufactured loaded with fifteen grains of powder and an unjacketed bullet of lead and tin composition, weighing 177 grains. It will give good results at 100 yards and can be used up to 150 and 200 yards. There is also a gallery practice cartridge for use up to 100 feet. It is loaded with three grains of .33 caliber powder. Those who think they know all that is necessary in shooting a modern rifle should read the instructions to be issued for the use of the new model rifle. They say in part: "In adjusting the sight for elevation at any range it must be borne in mind that in addition to the allowance made for variations in the muzzle velocity of the ammunition, allowances must also be made for the effect of differences of light, the amount of front sight seen, the effect of heat developed in firing, the personal equation of the firer, the peculiarities of individual guns, etc. Not so easy to become a sharpshooter. It is an interesting fact that the initial velocity changes with the difference in temperature. At zero there is a loss of eighty feet per second, which diminishes as the temperature rises until it is normal at seventy degrees Fahrenheit. The hotter it gets the faster the bullet leaves the gun, and at 120 degrees it has gained 35 feet per second. The new gun will admit of extremely rapid fire. Twenty-three aimed shots have been fired in one minute, using this gun as a single loader, and 25 shots using magazine fire. Firing from the hip without aim 27 shots have been fired in a minute, as a single loader, and 35 using magazine fire. The maximum range is 4247 yards, or nearly two and a half miles. It takes a bullet 44.5 seconds to make that distance but it travels considerably further on a curve owing to the elevation. The powder pressure in the chamber of this rifle is about 44,000 pounds per square inch. At fifty feet it will penetrate fifty-five inches of white pine.

TOBACCO MEN TO MEET IN MADISON

SIXTH ANNUAL SESSION TO BE HELD DEC. 5 AND 6.

$200 IN PRIZES HUNG UP

For Best Exhibits of Leaf—Prominent Growers and Dealers to Speak—Attendance Will Exceed 1000.

Members of the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers and Dealers Association, the roster of which contains over 1,000 names, will gather at the assembly chamber of the capitol in Madison on Dec. 5 and 6 for the sixth annual meeting. $200 in prizes has been hung up for the best tobacco leaf exhibited on this occasion and $10 is offered for the best paper on growing tobacco plants. Addresses will be made by eminent authorities on various phases of the tobacco business and there will be a big banquet at Keeley's restaurant on the night of Dec. 5. Each of the addresses and papers read during the two days session will be followed by a thirty-minute discussion. Subsequently the papers are all to be published in pamphlet form. A. L. Fisher of Janesville, secretary of the association, announces the program as follows:

"What is required to make Wisconsin the best cigar leaf producing state in the union?" by Fred Bemis of Footville. Discussion led by Frank Coleman.

"Is it conducive to the best interests of growers and dealers to contract tobacco before it is harvested?" by Charles W. Raymond of Edgerton. Discussion led by O. C. Lee.

"What can the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers and Dealers Association accomplish, which will directly benefit both grower and dealer?" by John M. Estes of Stoughton, president of the association.

"What governs and makes our Wisconsin tobacco market?" by Campbell of Chicago.

"How should the 1906 crop be handled from pole to bundle?" by S. Haight of Rockdale. Discussion led by Sam Grundy of Janesville.

Evening Program, Dec. 5. Toastmaster—Governor James O. Davidson.

"What will be the direct effect on our Wisconsin tobacco industry if the Philippine bill becomes a law and we are finally driven into direct competition with the Philippine tobacco?" by L. Blair of New York city president of the United States tobacco leaf board of trade and chief speaking representative of the tobacco growers in the arguments against the bill before the congressional committee.

TOBACCO MEN TO MEET IN MADISON

SIXTH ANNUAL SESSION TO BE HELD DEC. 5 AND 6.

$200 IN PRIZES HUNG UP

For Best Exhibits of Leaf—Prominent Growers and Dealers to Speak—Attendance Will Exceed 1000.

Members of the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers and Dealers Association, the roster of which contains over 1,000 names, will gather at the assembly chamber of the capitol in Madison on Dec. 5 and 6 for the sixth annual meeting. $200 in prizes has been hung up for the best tobacco leaf exhibited on this occasion and $10 is offered for the best paper on growing tobacco plants. Addresses will be made by eminent authorities on various phases of the tobacco business and there will be a big banquet at Keeley's restaurant on the night of Dec. 5. Each of the addresses and papers read during the two days session will be followed by a thirty-minute discussion. Subsequently the papers are all to be published in pamphlet form. A. L. Fisher of Janesville, secretary of the association, announces the program as follows:

"What is required to make Wisconsin the best cigar leaf producing state in the union?" by Fred Bemis of Footville. Discussion led by Frank Coleman.

"Is it conducive to the best interests of growers and dealers to contract tobacco before it is harvested?" by Charles W. Raymond of Edgerton. Discussion led by O. C. Lee.

"What can the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers and Dealers Association accomplish, which will directly benefit both grower and dealer?" by John M. Estes of Stoughton, president of the association.

"What governs and makes our Wisconsin tobacco market?" by Campbell of Chicago.

"How should the 1906 crop be handled from pole to bundle?" by S. Haight of Rockdale. Discussion led by Sam Grundy of Janesville.

Evening Program, Dec. 5. Toastmaster—Governor James O. Davidson.

"What will be the direct effect on our Wisconsin tobacco industry if the Philippine bill becomes a law and we are finally driven into direct competition with the Philippine tobacco?" by L. been arriving throughout the day, and the indications are that the attendance will eclipse that at any previous convention. The city is in gala attire in honor of the guests, the decorations being elaborate on both business houses and residences. The largest delegations are from Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Jackson. Other cities throughout the state, however, are well represented. The opening day was given over chiefly to the reception of the visitors and the completion of the convention arrangements. The four days' program has been arranged on the institute plan with addresses by leaders in different lines of Christian Endeavor work. Among those to be heard are Missions: Grace C. Glenn, formerly missionary to Japan; William Shaw of Boston, treasurer of the national and world's unions of Christian Endeavor, and Rev. C. H. Hall of Columbus, field secretary for Ohio.

IS YOUR COAT DUSTY?

You Probably Have the White Scab of Dandruff on It. If your coat or shoulders have a white dust upon it, the chances are that it is from dandruff. The only way to permanently cure dandruff is to remove the cause, which is the germ. Every toilet table should have such a hair-dressing that contains also the destroyer of the dandruff and hair falling germ. It stops all irritation, keeps the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome. Remember that something claimed to be "just as good" will not do the work of genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c for stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Hugh M. COMING THEATRICAL EVENTS

Thursday evening, Nov. 1—Eddie Foy and company in the musical comedy "The Earl and the Girl."

Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 3—Mabel Barrison and company in the musical play "The District Leader."

Mabel Barrison, the greatest favorite with women ever in Chicago will, together with Jos. E. Howard, make her initial stellar appearance here on Saturday, Nov. 3, for two performances at the Myers Theatre in "The District Leader," a musical comedy drama. These two stars are surrounded by a prepossessing array of supporters including such well known people as twenty emphatic song hits in the piece. "How'd You Like to Spoon with Me," "Mediterranean Blue," and "The Poor Little Marionette," being extremely popular. Much ingenuity has been exercised in arranging the dances, choruses and ensembles and from start to finish the piece is best described as being "catchy." The situations are comically funny and the usual opportunity is offered Eddie Foy for his particularly droll style of comedy. Eddie Foy is one of the funniest, if not the funniest man on the American stage today, and so great is the demand for his appearance in New York that he rarely goes to the Western theatre-goers get the opportunity of seeing him except in Chicago where he is by long odds the most popular interest they manifest in its enactment causes regret that more plays of this character are not in existence. "Ben Hur" with its lustrous Star of Bethlehem, its cameos and chariot steeds, its Oriental trappings and splendor of the gorgeous East is one of the most elaborate spectacles ever staged, and yet the appeal of General Wallace's religious-historic romance is not to the eye and the ear alone, but to the heart. Through all the scenes of wondrous beauty, through the vivid portrayal of the exciting incidents of the dawn of Christianity, the plain simple story of "The Man of Calvary" is brought home with all compelling force. The Star of Bethlehem, the adoration of the Wise Men, the heart-throbbing tale of the meeting of Christ with Hur, the greetings of the great multitude on the Mount of Olives, and the final miracle of the cleansing of the lepers, these are some of the incidents of "Ben Hur" which separate it from other plays and make it in its grandeur stand apart.

Change wrought by fire: Van Ness avenue, San Francisco, till the fire a street of handsome residences and clubhouses, is evidently destined to be the new retail-dry goods center of the city.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, November 1, 1866—An Original Story.—We commence today the publication of an original story sent us by a lady residing in Litchfield, Conn. It possesses more than ordinary merit and stamps the writer as an author of ability, and one who will be likely to make her mark in literature of this kind.

The Copper Johnson Meeting Last Evening.—At the hour announced for the commencement of the Randall Doolittle meeting last evening, the Court room was about two-thirds full, a very few ladies being present. Mr. A. Hyatt, 221th ave. and said he had been requested to preside over the meeting, and as there was no business to be done save to introduce the speakers, he would do so. This very unusual mode of officiating, a meeting was supposed to be induced by the fact that the managers feared the preponderance of Republicans in the meeting might put some one in the chair who was not of the right stripe. Mr. Smith introduced Mr. Doolittle, who spoke his piece commencing with that truly elegant, new and unique declaration that he was an earnest man speaking to earnest men, etc., etc. He closed about halfpast nine o'clock when the bulletin of the evening, George B. Smith, was introduced and divided his time between copper-head talk, "dry" dig at his co-workers, Senator Doolittle, and our humble selves. We can readily conceive how this speaker could have made one of his Madison auditors sick at his stomach, a few evenings since. The effort was not creditable even to George B. In fact, the meeting would have been a ridiculous fizzle but for the attendance of Republicans.

Insanity experts have no occasion to point the finger of scorn at the lawyers who take one side of a case or the other for pay and make no pretensions of believing any other way than the way they are being paid all the money a man has to believe.

The experts, on the other hand, are supposed to be impartial scientists who are ready to go on the witness stand and tell the truth regardless of whom it hits.

It is needless to say that they don't do anything of the sort, and the way in which they make science the handmaiden of the almighty dollar is really something of a public scandal.

It makes no difference on which side he is hired, he makes the same line of big words, prove either that the man is sane or insane, according to the way it shall swell his bank account, to say nothing of dimming his reputation.

SENATOR SPOONER.

The enthusiastic reception accorded Senator Spooner, wherever he speaks, indicates that Wisconsin people appreciate the fact that the state is favored with a representative in congress who combines manhood with statesmanship in rare degree.

For the first time in half a dozen years Senator Spooner enjoys the privilege of talking to a united party, and that he is at his best is plainly in evidence. He preaches the doctrine of harmony and loyalty in no uncertain terms and clearly defines the difference between leadership and bossism. In his Stevens Point speech last Monday night he said:

"I was here last in 1892, to speak under the auspices of the state central committee in advocacy of the principles of a united republican party. I am here tonight after the lapse of many years, under the auspices of the state central committee, to speak in advocacy of the principles and ticket of a reunited republican party. I envy no man who finds in the coming together of this great party in Wisconsin again anything to deprecate."

The state ticket he endorses from top to bottom, and suggests that it is idle to discuss the past, and predicts that from this time on a united party will rally to the support of republican principles. He said:

"I am here tonight to solicit the support of the voters of this community for all of them. It is bootless to inquire into the merits or demerits of the differences which divided the republican party in this state. It is past, and since it is past it is idle to discuss it. It is enough for us to know that it is past, and that from this time on the party will march forward under the leadership not only of local leaders, but of Theodore Roosevelt and those who are to follow him united in the support of republican principles."

In sharp contrast to Senator Spooner's attitude is the work now being done by his colleague, the junior senator. Not satisfied with the people's verdict, as expressed through his pet measure, the primary law, he goes up and down the state supporting favorite candidates.

His campaign in Milwaukee is announced by his organ as the La Follette-McGovern campaign. That means that the regular republican nominee for district attorney will be ignored, to say the least, and the disgruntled candidate supported.

If he was speaking in Rock county and John Fisher, the party nominee, was distasteful to him, he would support Blanchard, the disgruntled aspirant.

This is the man who assumes to know more about what the people want than they know themselves. If not a boss and a dictator, what is he?

Better to be a republican of the John C. Spooner stripe than a devotee of the man who assumes to know it all.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAW.

The prohibition party is demanding a prohibitory law, advocating the theory that if such a law was passed the state would soon be free of saloons and the cause of temperance greatly enhanced.

These good, but badly deluded people, seem to be impressed with the notion that laws enforce themselves and that a reform measure duly enrolled on the statute books is all that is necessary to reform.

They overlook the fact that the state of Wisconsin already has a code of temperance laws which if enforced would drive every saloon out of business in thirty days. More than this, the state has a local option law, which says to any community, "You can have prohibition just as soon as public sentiment demands it."

That is all there is to the law proposition on any question which attempts to regulate public morals. Public sentiment makes the law and with rare exception public sentiment alone enforces it.

Occasionally a community is favored with an officer who possesses the nerve to tackle a reform movement as is just now the case in Kansas City, where it is said that for the first time in the history of the city the jails are empty.

An assistant district attorney who enforced the law drove two hundred law-breaking liquor saloons out of business, and left the city magistrates nothing to do, in the absence of the usual crop of drunks. Jail guards have been dismissed, and the police force has been cut down. Plans for enlarging the jail have been abandoned. Bankers and merchants, who at first protested against the campaign, have voluntarily apologized to those who enforced the law, because it has helped business rather than hindered it.

This is the exception to the rule; for there are few such officers. The number of men in any community who are willing to make a complaint against a violator of law are extremely limited, and the number of officers throughout the land who will conduct a campaign similar to the one now going on in Kansas City can be counted by a boy in the primary department.

The state, as well as the nation, is burdened with inoperative laws. Better had they never been enacted, for a law ignored is a menace to all law.

If reformers will take a hand at enforcing laws already existing, they will find plenty of occupation and they will have something to show for their work.

LA FOLLETTE ON CONNOR

"If I should live out the full measure of my natural life, I could not half repay the debt of gratitude I owe Mr. Connor for the great service he has rendered me and the principles we are contending for."

This was the sentiment expressed by Senator La Follette two years ago. After the election the following dispatch was sent to Mr. Connor from Madison under date of Nov. 9, 1904:

"You have conducted a clean, able campaign, remarkable for thoroughness and freedom from error. You successfully applied your wide experience in business to the field of politics. I congratulate you most heartily and express without reserve my profound obligation to you for the great personal sacrifices you have so generously made to our cause.—Robert M. La Follette."

What a change has come over the scene in two short years! The same Connor, but not the same La Follette. The latter has been elevated to the high office of United States senator, but he has lost none of his vindictiveness, for men who fall to bow to his beck and call.

Connor's name has not been mentioned by him during the campaign and democrats are supported in preference to republicans who do not wear the color and meekly submit to the yoke. "The reformer needs reforming," is the verdict of many of his oldtime friends.

The Hearst chickens are coming home to roost. His campaign of calumny and abuse has already commenced to react, and the chances are that he will be defeated by at least 100,000. The Empire state has at last awakened and good results will follow.

The students at Lawrence university are running things with a high hand. There are some things about the art of obtaining a higher education that will bear reforming. Young America, if anything, is progressive, but there ought to be a limit to progress along some lines.

The only requisite to membership in the new party, of which La Follette aspires to leadership, is loyalty and supreme submission to the leader. That ought to be easy and popular.

It would be easier to sell $75,000 worth of fake mining stock than to raise $5,000 for a new hospital; yet the latter has something to show for the investment, while the former is mighty uncertain to say the least.

The hospital will pay dividends of comfort and good cheer every day in the year. That's better than some things pay that cost more money.

If you can't be a Sister of Mercy, you can be a brother-in-law, and help the good cause of the hospital along.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Mulcairns Leaves City: "Paddy" Mulcairns was arrested today on a warrant sworn out by his sister, charging him with malicious destruction of property, to-wit: kicking in the door. In municipal court sentence was suspended with the understanding that he should leave town forthwith.

John Wagner Fined: For drunkenness John Wagner was today sentenced in municipal court to spend three days in the county jail and pay a fine and costs amounting to $2.10, with three additional days of confinement as the alternative.

FOY AND HIS DOG
LATE IN COMING

Balance of "Earl and the Girl" Company Arrived Here From Racine Shortly After Noon.

"The Earl and the Girl" company which appears at the Myers theatre tonight, arrived from Racine shortly after one o'clock. Eddie Foy and the dog which the first class hotels at Appleton refused to accommodate this week with the result that the actor arrived at a dollar a day farmers' tavern, were expected on a later train arriving about three o'clock. As to whether or not they will accept Foy plus the canine the local hotel managers maintain a dogged silence. The Sauberts do not duplicate their attractions and this is the original one and only company presenting "The Earl and the Girl."

CIGARETTE FIENDS

American Plug No Longer Sold in Large Quantities at British Garrisons.

Washington, D. C.—Consul Groulx in a report to the Department of Commerce and Labor on the trade of Malta says American tobacco, which is used for the manufacture of strong cigars and for pipe smoking, is imported direct and from British and French ports to a fair extent. Raw leaf is taxed 4 cents a pound, whereas plug tobacco pays a duty of 13 cents a pound. The plug tobacco has always been bought principally by the older soldiers stationed at the garrison, but the arrival of younger troops has curtailed its consumption because of their general use of cigarettes.

PERSONAL MENTION.

BIG CONCERT DATE
HAS BEEN CHANGED

Gilmore's Famous Song Cycle Will be Rendered at the Myers Theatre Tuesday Evening, Nov. 13.

The date of the grand concert of The Apollo Club has been changed to Tuesday night, November 13. Instead of Monday, November 12. It will be given in the Opera House and will be a most notable musical event. Five distinguished artists will give the program, which includes Gilmore's famous song cycle. The Apollo Club is to be congratulated on bringing to the city talent of the highest order and citizens will doubtless show their cordial approval. The expense of the concert will be great, but in order that all may be present who desire, the price of reserved seats have been fixed at fifty cents, seventy-five cents and one dollar each.

Marriage Licenses: Applications for marriage licenses have been filed by John M. Welch and Eliza Hessian, both of Janesville; Gustaf Drager and Kate Bouchier, both of Beloit; William H. Hazard of Beloit and Agnes M. Mosé of Bradford.

A Great Suit Sale

The best values of a successful season

Twenty dollar suits $13.50
 Twenty-five dollar suits 18.50

Begins Friday, November 2nd.

The character of Tailored Suits to be seen here is of the highest and the best dressed women depend on this department to supply their needs in this line. All of these suits are made up heavy enough so that they can be worn with comfort on almost any day in winter and will therefore take the place of a heavy coat. The coats to the suits being full satin lined and also interlined.

At thirteen fifty are Cheviot suits, fancy plaid suits, and a number of novelty suits, among them being suits which have been up to twenty dollars.

At eighteen fifty are some of the noblest suits of the season, made up in the best possible manner and are such suits as are approved by the lovers of stylish garments.

In both lines is a complete range of sizes for ladies from 32 to 44 bust; for Misses from 14 to 20 years and for the intermediate ages 11 to 15 year sizes. The chance to buy such suits at a reduced price is seldom offered right in the season when you need them, and it would be wise to come in and see how good an outfit you can buy at either of the special prices—$13.50—$18.50.

Winter Coats—Many kinds and for every purse, $7.50 to $35.

Fur Lined Coats—$22.50 to $65.

Separate Skirts—$3.00 to $25.00.

Waists—Everything that new—$1.00 to $25.00.

Furs—Nothing missing in good furs.

Millinery—Leading display is here as usual.

Whatever your ideas may be in ready to wear garments we believe we can meet them with the correct styles. If you have not visited these departments do so now—you will be made welcome.

"Not $10--Just $5 a Tooth"

You paid $10 each for your gold crowns. Didn't you? Well, you need not do it in the future. If you will choose Dr. Richards for your dentist, you are placing hundreds of the finest gold crowns possible to be made for just $5 each. You ask, "How can he do it?" Because he is satisfied with a smaller margin of profit. He guarantees these crowns to be the equal of any in quality of gold, in beauty of design, in fit and general usefulness. Now who would be so foolish as to part with a tooth when for $5.00 it can be saved for twenty years of good hard serviceableness? Dr. Richards can show you crowns set by him 15 years ago which are as good as ever today. Can you ask more than that? And his price isn't $10. It's just $5 each. Out of Hole By Own Power

The city's steam roller was this morning removed from the bed of Spring Brook, where it fell Monday afternoon, and the slight damage done in the accident is now being repaired. The machine was "jacked up" under the direction of George Rood, foreman of the North-Western wrecking crew, and a temporary bridge built under it. This morning the boiler was fired up and a team hitched to the rear and the machine was taken from the scene of the accident practically by her own power. The accompanying pictures show how the forward roller remained on the bridge and the rear rolls dropped down. In one view George Cary, the engineer, who was in charge at the time it fell through the Beloit avenue bridge, is seen at work removing the top preparatory to jacking the machine up.

CAN'T CHALLENGE A VOTE ON A MACHINE

New Ruling by the Attorney General That Interests Janesville.

Attorney General Sturdevant has decided a point of interest to Janesville, that votes cast on a voting machine cannot be challenged. The following is his decision in part as given in an interview: "There is no way to challenge a vote on the voting machine and make it effective. The statutes provide that if a vote is challenged and the voter swears in the vote the ballot shall be marked on the back by the number of the voter who casts the vote. When a voting machine is used, however, the vote may be challenged, but there is no way of designating this ballot so far as I have discovered, so if the voter is ultimately disqualified, the vote may be thrown out without a detriment to the correct returns. In other words the question is, if a ballot cast by a challenged voter is ultimately thrown out, what ballot are you going to throw out when there is no way of marking a ballot challenged?"

MRS. AVIS LLOYD DIED IN PHOENIX

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Turk Succumbed to Consumption After Brief Stay in Arizona.

Mrs. Avis Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Turk of the town of La Prairie, died of consumption at Phoenix, Arizona, Monday evening. She went thither two weeks ago Wednesday in the hope of bettering her health and her condition seemed to be improving as late as last Saturday. William Lloyd, her husband, and Mrs. Turk left Phoenix with the remains last evening and are expected to arrive here by Saturday night. She deceased was 27 years of age. She was married two years ago last April and had been living on the Robert Barless farm up to the time of her departure for the west. There are no children.

JOE MILLER TO BE SENTENCED FRIDAY

Jury, After Eight Hours Deliberation
Brought in a Verdict of "Guilty".
Last Evening.

After deliberating eight hours, the jury trying the criminal action for attempted burglary against Joseph Miller, brought in a verdict of "guilty" last evening, and the prisoner will receive his sentence Friday morning. It is understood that the twelve men had no trouble in agreeing that Miller was the man under the bed in the Lawrence home on the night of October 6 but there was great difficulty in reaching an agreement that burglary was his motive. The prosecution was ably conducted by District Attorney John Fisher and the defense represented by H. L. Maxwell and William Smith put up a hard fight.

READY FOR IOWA ON GRIDIRON SATURDAY

University Team Has Made Rapid Strides Towards Form
Recently.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 1.—Wisconsin football players had their last hard practice today in preparation for the first critical struggle of the year, with Iowa here Saturday. After the hard scrimmage was over, Coach Hutchins expressed himself as reasonably satisfied with the team, but there is by no means confidence in Madison as to the outcome of the game. Iowa is coming with near a thousand rooters and the haywheves are therefore assured of a portion of the encouragement that comes from noisy bleachers. Coach Hutchins has carefully considered with Dr. McCarthy and the other old stars who have been assisting with the coaching this week, and the line-up of the badgers is practically determined. Four places are in some doubt, on account of injuries to Rogers and Curtin, the

$4,528,000 Libel Suits Impend

Chicago Chronicle: No matter what may be the result of the elections next week, it is certain that Hearst's career as an uncured slanderer is to be ended. The feeling that his vicious and criminal newspapers must not be permitted to continue their reckless libels has become a public sentiment. This country has not yet sunk so low that a degenerate, perjured, with unearned money can terrorize the decent people of whole communities with impunity.

FAIRFIELD.

Fairfield, Nov. 1.—A Sunday school was established at Fairfield on Sunday afternoon with an enrollment of thirteen children and twenty-three adults. The school will hold its sessions at 1:30 p. m., an hour before the afternoon preaching service, and will be maintained through the entire year. Mr. Coffman preached Sunday on the second and third petitions of the Lord's Prayer, "Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will be Done on Earth as it is in Heaven." "No one," said Mr. Coffman, can properly pray for the forgiveness of sins or for daily bread, who does not first desire and seek the kingdom of God as the condition of doing the will of God. The kingdom came first at Pentecost, after Christ's ascension. It comes to individual hearts and lives in the new birth. We are continually to appropriate its benefits and endeavor to increase the number of its citizens. The kingdom is within us, a spiritual condition.

KOSHKONONG.

Koshkonong, Oct. 31.—Mr. J. K. Lynd returned Saturday from a two months' stay at his farm in Arkansas. He will hold an auction at his farm at this place Nov. 1 and move to Whitewater for the winter.
Rev. and Mrs. A. Porter of Milton Junction made a few calls in this vicinity last week.
Miss Zella Hutson and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hutson of Edgerton, were over Sunday visitors at Alex. Shuman's.
On account of the illness of Miss Julia Haight last week the Mite society did not meet there.
Phil Wench of Milton Junction has moved to his father's farm back to the home of his boyhood.
Mr. and Mrs. W. Cullen of Fulton moved into the tenant house on the Wench farm Thursday.
Mrs. W. Lyons received word from Ft. Atkinson last week that her son Charles had fallen from a building, breaking three ribs and receiving other injuries.
Mrs. J. Krause invited a few of her neighbors in last Thursday afternoon to assist in making comforters. Two nice silkoline comforters were finished and a pleasant time was had by those present.

Mrs. R. E. Marlatt of Milton.

formerly of the Koshkonong store, moved to Whitewater Wednesday. Good-byes were said over the phone. We hope to hear of the improvement of Mr. Marlatt's health.
Esther, Charley and Alex. Shuman spent last Sunday with Mrs. S. Ward's family at East Koshkonong.
